Reason: Metrc is providing an update on the Lab Test Batches available by Item Category

Greetings,

Metrc, in conjunction with the OMMA, would like to announce an update for submitting test samples regarding the Lab Test Batches available based on the item category of the source package.

Please find on the following pages a detailed description of the updates:

Lab Test Batches Available by Item Category

On May 20, 2024, there will be a change to the Lab Test Batches available when creating a test sample. When a test sample is created, the Lab Test Batches available to select will be those that correlate to the item category of the source package being sampled. To create a test sample, go to the Packages area dropdown on the navigational toolbar - see Figure 1.

Please Note: If you do not see this option, you will need to be granted permission under the employee admin area.

Once on the Packages grid, select the Active tab to go to the Active Packages grid. - see Figure 2.

Once on the Active Packages grid, select the “Submit for Testing” button to begin the creation of a test sample process - see Figure 3 below.

This will open the Submit for Testing action window to create a new test sample. Enter the required information for both the source package and the new test sample. Once the Item name is entered or the Same Item is selected, then the Lab Test Batches that correlate with that item category will be available. In the example below, the test sample is for Raw Plant Material so the available Lab Test Batches that correlate to this test sample (Raw Plant Material) are displayed - see Figure 4 below.
